Chinaware

Chinaware, also called crockery or dinnerware, is any item that can be used to make individual portions of a meal. Chinaware includes a variety of dishes, from basic plates and bowls to more elaborate dinnerware that is made with specific shapes, colors, and sizes.

TRAMONTINA

Flatware

Flatware encompasses a variety of utensils used for eating and serving food. These include forks, spoons, and knives, each with specialized types for different uses. Beyond these basics, flatware also includes items like salad forks, dessert forks, steak knives, butter knives, and various spoons like soup spoons, teaspoons, and tablespoons.

Glassware

Glassware is an essential category in both residential and commercial dining, offering elegance, functionality, and durability in a variety of forms. From crystal-clear wine glasses to robust tumblers and stylish cocktail glasses, each piece is crafted to enhance the drinking experience

The chef is holding the handle of the pan with their right hand and seasoning the food with their left hand. The background is a warm, out-of-focus kitchen setting with various kitchen items like tomatoes, herbs, and a small white bowl on the counter.

TRAMONTINA

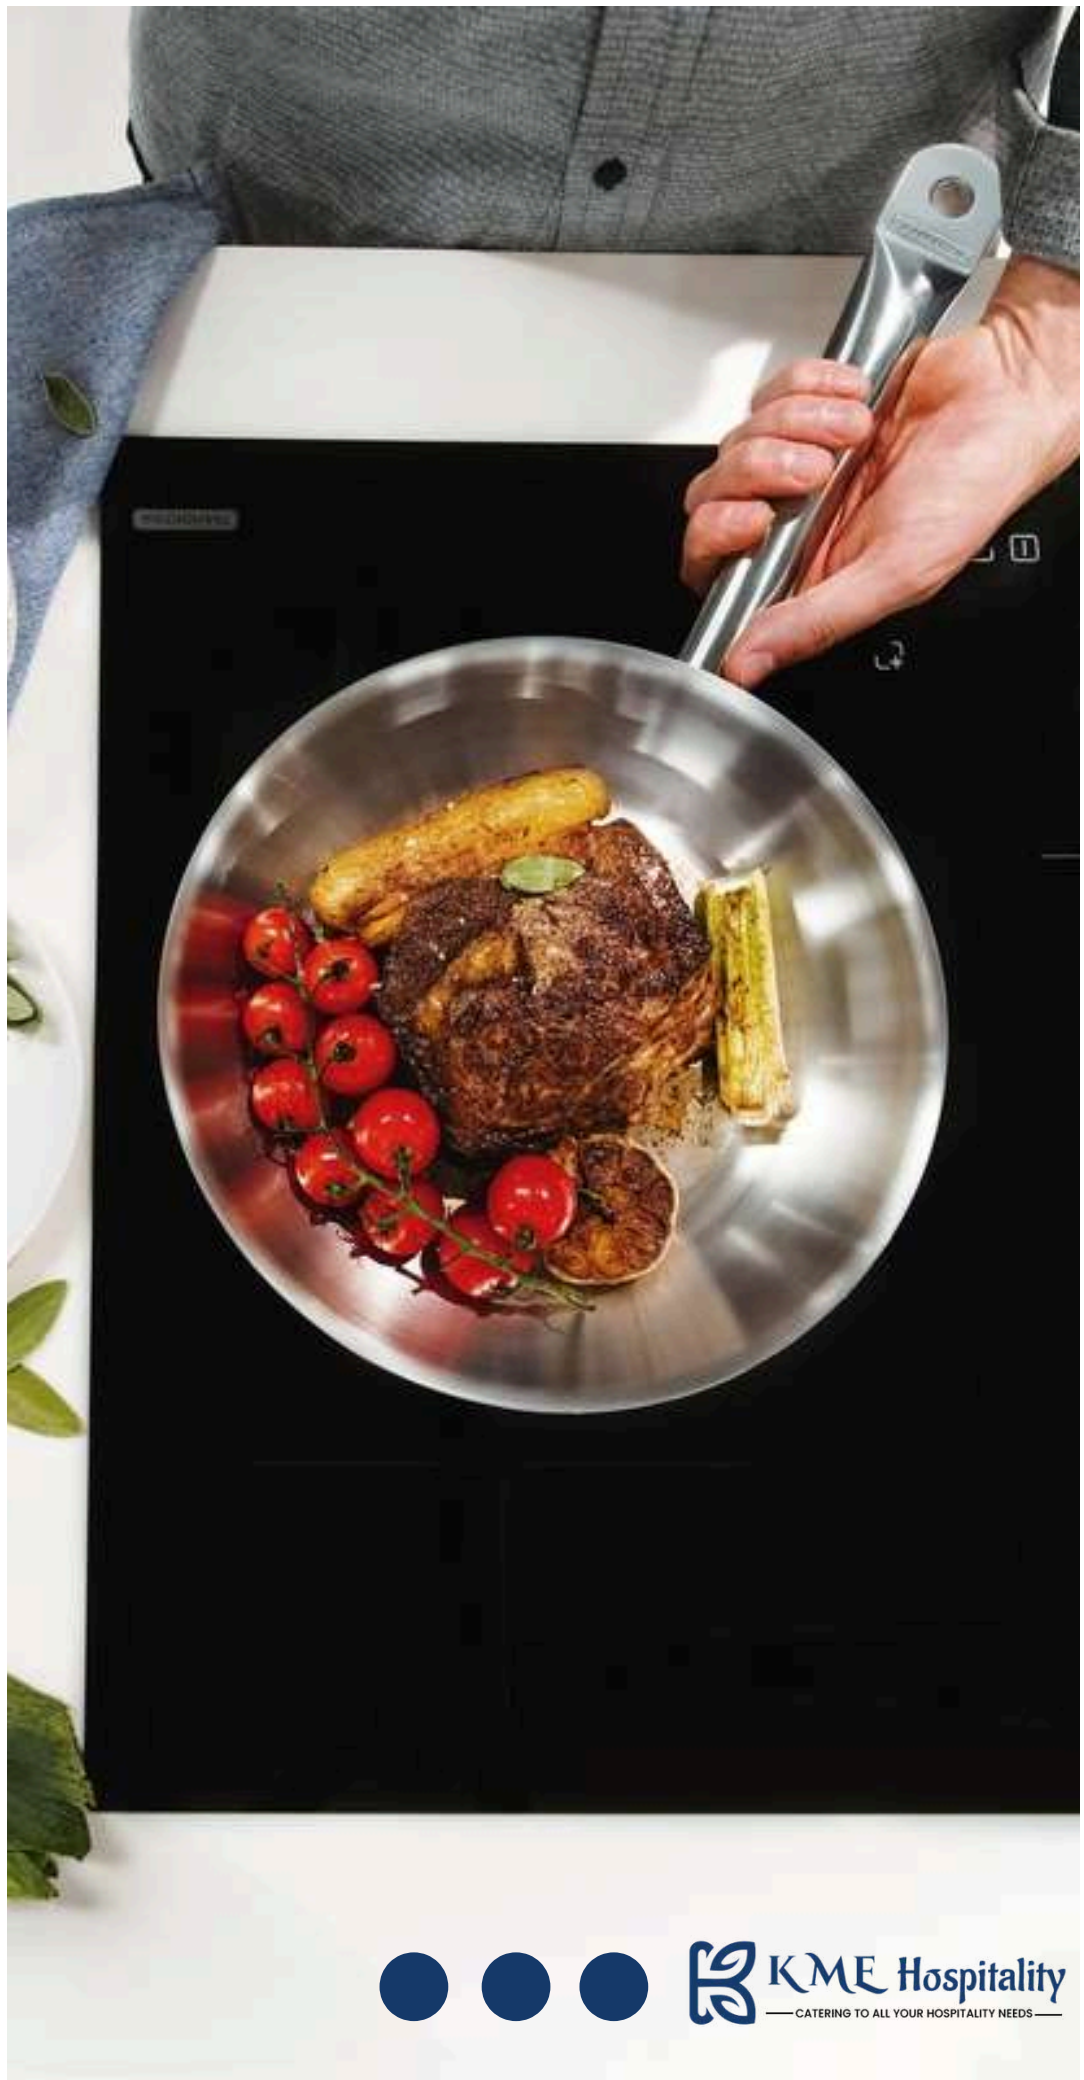

Kitchenware

Tramontina kitchenware is a globally respected brand known for its commitment to quality, craftsmanship, and innovation in the culinary world. With over a century of experience, Tramontina has become synonymous with premium kitchen solutions that cater to the needs of both professional chefs and passionate home cooks.

Kitchen Knives

Kitchen knives are indispensable tools in any kitchen, designed to handle a wide range of food preparation tasks with precision, efficiency, and safety. From slicing and dicing to chopping and carving, a well-crafted kitchen knife enhances the cooking experience and helps achieve professional-level results at home or in commercial settings.

Apartment Essentials

Apartment hospitality combines the comfort of home with the attentive service of a hotel, offering guests a unique and personalized stay experience. These spaces are thoughtfully designed to provide both short-term and long-term visitors with the convenience of fully furnished apartments, complete with modern amenities such as kitchens

TRAMONTINA

Buffetware

Buffetware refers to a collection of specialized serving equipment and tableware designed for buffet-style dining, commonly used in hotels, restaurants, and catered events. It includes items such as chafing dishes to keep food warm, platters and trays for attractive presentation, beverage dispensers, and serving utensils like tongs and ladles.

Barware

Barware refers to the collection of tools, glassware, and accessories specifically designed for preparing, serving, and enjoying alcoholic and non-alcoholic beverages. Essential in home bars, restaurants, lounges, and professional cocktail settings, barware not only enhances the drink-making process but also elevates the overall drinking experience through presentation, precision, and style.

Pastry Utensils

Pastry utensils are vital for creating, forming, and decorating a range of baked treats and pastries. Common tools include rolling pins to smooth and spread dough, pastry brushes for applying butter or egg wash, and cutters or molds to shape various designs.

The other chef is on the right, also in uniform, working with another container. In the foreground, there is a red rolling cart with two black storage containers on it. The background shows stainless steel kitchen equipment and a window. A semi-transparent white box with text is overlaid on the right side of the image.

Food Transportation & Storage

Food transportation refers to the process of safely and efficiently moving food products from one location to another, whether it's from a kitchen to an event venue, between restaurants, or from suppliers to food service establishments.

Linen

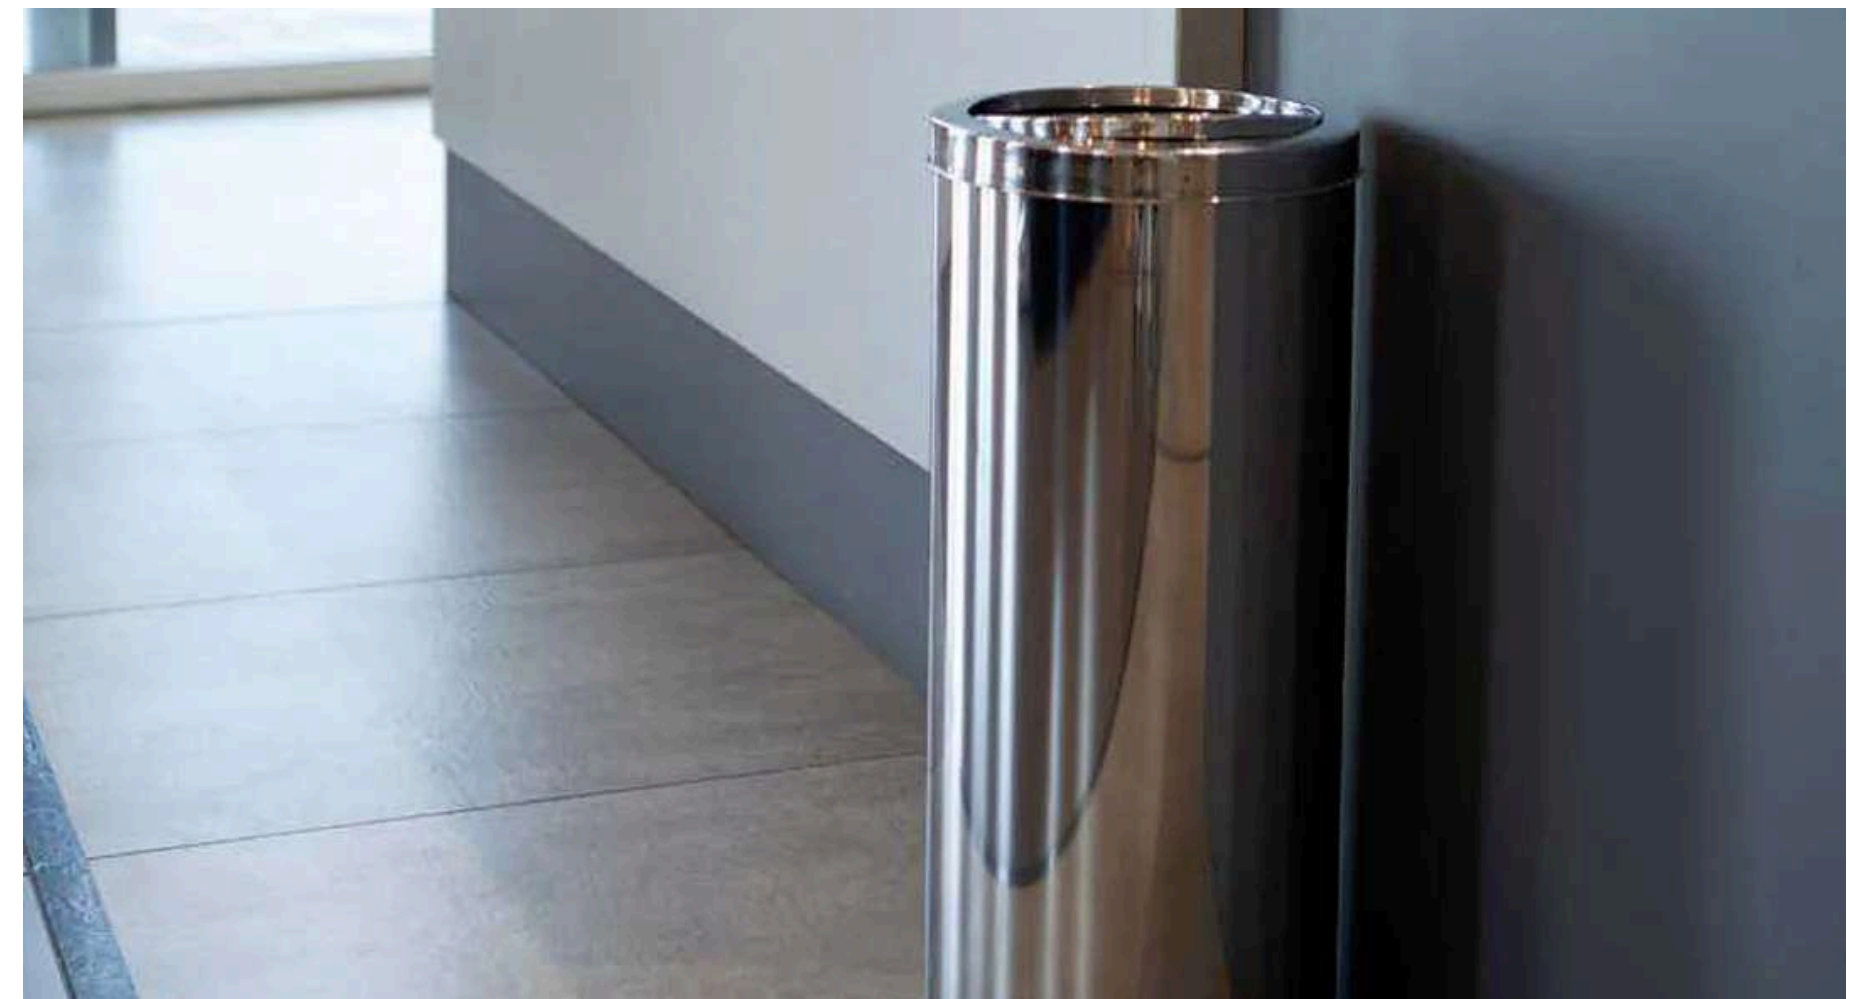

We present a refined selection of bed linen crafted to deliver exceptional sophistication, comfort, and elegance for luxury hospitality settings. Each piece embodies our dedication to quality, ensuring your guests experience truly restful and memorable stays.

HouseKeeping & In Room Items
